this book combines primary materials with expert commentary demonstrating the interaction between law and practice in the un organisation as well as the possibilities and limitations of multilateral institutions in general each chapter begins with a short introductory essay by the authors that describes how the documents that follow illustrate a set of legal institutional and political issues relevant to the practice of diplomacy and the development of public international law through the united nations this second edition updates the materials in the first edition and introduces new features that reflect a changing global landscape

this book contains the second part of a practical path to the liberation of consciousness it is about consciousness giving birth to time and space that every human being consists of 5 bodies and that the known universe is located in a matrix of 13 dimensions of consciousness the book consists of 2 parts kurt walchensteiner has researched and meditated for many years and has described over 1000 properties space consciousnesses and personality types of being human there is a multi dimensional structure of consciousness that defines the human being comparable to an inner platform knowledge of this structure has been lost thousands of characteristics orders and space consciousnesses from 13 dimensions form an inner universe in the human being space and time determine this structure anyone who wishes to study human consciousness will find an almost indescribable treasure trove of knowledge in this book some traditions contain individual contents the places of light and darkness mentioned in the gnostic text pistis sophia as well as the 13 crystal skulls of the mayan religion refer in their original meaning to the 13 dimensions of consciousness orders and space consciousnesses can also be found in other religions and teachings which when taken out of context take on different positions this structure of consciousness is as old as the human being itself it explains the origin of man and also the path that the human being is moving towards every human being has to face the challenge of being a human being this means moving into one's own interior recognizing the dimensions of consciousness and becoming what every human being carries as an inner potential the path to this is the practice of liberating consciousness and thus fulfilling what it means to be human this is the content of these two books translation from german kurt richard walchensteiner with the help of supertext com translate google com dict leo org and languagetool org de firmly established as a comprehensive introduction on the topic this revised 5th edition provides a wide ranging outline of the major instructional and training concepts and their relationship to training in practice the authors have expanded on information relating to the training environment equipment strategies and target population as well as including a completely new section on ethics written with the newcomer to the training function in mind it provides numerous real life case studies to illustrate the theory this engaging and practical book is as valuable to those who want to put their training experience into a coherent context as it is to managers who need to understand the role that training can play master s thesis from the year 2019 in the subject biology micro and molecular biology grade 4 arba minch university course medical microbiology language english abstract the aim of this study was to determine the antibacterial activity of crude extracts of four medicinal plants a pirottae g schweinfurthii k begoniifolia and u leptocladon against atcc and mdr clinical isolates of bacteria based on ethnobotanical data four plants were collected from different areas of south omo through several field trips followed by taxonomic identification leaves a pirottae k begoniifolia and u leptocladon and root g schweinfurthii parts of plants specimens were subjected to extraction process using six different organic solvents through maceration and subsequent filtration the resultant crude extracts were screened for primary in vitro antibacterial activity against atcc bacterial strains using agar well diffusion assay the plants that showed the highest activity indices were further screened against mdrr bacterial isolates mic was performed on the most active plant extract results of antibacterial activities were analyzed using statistical software spss for windows version 20 the antibacterial activity significantly varied among the plant species type of solvents used for the extraction and strains of bacteria tested ethyl acetate and ethanol was highly effective for extracting antibacterial principles irrespective of plant species the results of primary screening revealed that two plants k begoniifolia and u leptocladon were highly active against atcc strains the results of the extended screening showed that among the two plants ethyl acetate extract of u leptocladon efficiently inhibited the growth of mdrr bacterial isolates the mic values of u leptocladon were varied in inhibiting mdrr bacteria tested the overall findings of this study demonstrated that all the four plants have antibacterial activities in varying degrees u leptocladon showed the widest and highest spectrum of antibacterial activities as per agar well diffusion assay and analysis of mic however further ongoing and in depth studies are mandatory in order to prove and understand in vivo efficacy mechanism of action and toxicological profile of these plants in many regions of the world particularly ethiopia the vast majority of traditional medicines are plant based however these plants were neglected and scarcely explored therefore screening of plants used in traditional medicine could provide the chance of discovering antimicrobials that fight against infectious diseases
